QUIET IN HAMBURG AGAIN RESTORED

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, Friday, June 27.—It is officially announced that Government troops are in complete control at Hamburg. No fighting is reported in the city and it is said that sufficient troops are arriving to insure a restoration of normal conditions.

Versailles, June 28.—Last minute changes were made in the programme to expedite the signing of the peace treaty. Two additional cables were placed beside the one within the historical Hall of Mirrors in which the peace treaty was laid. One of the cables held the Rhine convention and the other the Protocol containing changes in and interpretations of the treaty. All those documents had to be signed by each plenipotentiary and the arrangement of the cables thus enabled three persons to be engaged simultaneously in affixing their signatures, hours before the time set for the ceremony, an endless stream of automobiles began moving up the cannon lined hill of the Champs de Mars carrying the plenipotentiaries, officials, and guests to the ceremony.

PRESIDENT LEAVES PARIS TONIGHT

Washington, June 28.—President Wilson and his party will leave Paris at 9:30 tonight for Drest to sail for home. Secretary Tumulty was notified today. The cable from President Wilson said, "all well." President Wilson has consented to an unofficial reception for him on his arrival in New York. A committee of citizens through Secretary Tumulty has asked that they be allowed to prepare an unofficial greeting. This is the first intimation of where the President is to land.

(By Associated Press)
Versailles, June 28.—At 3:44 o'clock cannon began to boom announcing the completion of the ceremony of signing. The signatures had not, however, as a matter of fact, been completed at that time, the smaller nations still signing in alphabetical order.

The proceedings were formally closed at 3:49 o'clock. The protocol was signed by all those who signed the treaty. The Rhine arrangement was signed by the Germans, Americans, Belgians, British and French.

As Premier Clemenceau, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George emerged from the hall, the great crowd gathered outside swept aside the cordon of troops cheering madly. The three statesmen were swept along by the surging thousands. Many soldiers broke ranks and joined in the demonstration while guns boomed and low flying airplanes seemed to fill the air. The three allied leaders left Versailles in the same automobile, the crowd following and cheering.

Washington, June 28.—Signing of the Peace Treaty was begun at 10:30 Washington time. The official report to the State department said President Wilson signed at 3:14 Paris time. Dr. Hermann Mueller and Dr. Johannes Bell signed for Germany at 3:15. All the American delegation had finished signing at 3:15. Immediately after President Wilson, the official report said. The order of signing after President Wilson was Lansing, White, House and Bliss.

Versailles, June 28 (Official report transmitted from Hall of Mirrors to State Department).—President Wilson and the American delegation completed signing the Peace Treaty at 3:14 Paris time. It was also signed by Dr. Hermann Mueller at 3:12 and Johannes Bell at 3:13 for the Germans.

The American delegation signed in this order: Sec. Lansing, Henry White, Colonel House, and General Bliss. The other delegations headed by the British signed after the American plenipotentiaries in the order set forth in the treaty. Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, one of the delegates, representing the Union of South Africa, signed the treaty under protest. He objected to certain territorial settlements making a lengthy statement.

President Wilson entered the Hall of Mirrors at 2:50 o'clock. All the delegates then were seated except the Chinese, who did not attend. The Germans entered at exactly 3:00. Premier Clemenceau called the session to order at 3:10. He put the treaty question to the Germans, whether they were willing to sign, and execute loyally all its terms. The other delegates did not arise when the Germans came into the hall.

The Germans, who were the first to sign, did so at 3:13 o'clock. The American delegates came next, led by President Wilson. The British followed the Americans. The Chinese delegates shortly before the hour set for the signing of the treaty reiterated their intention not to sign.

The Chinese plenipotentiaries did not sign and were not present. They had written to the President of the Conference stating they would not be present and that they were awaiting instructions from their government. Premier Clemenceau in opening the session said, "The session is open. The allied and associated powers on one side and the German commission on the other side, have come to an agreement on the conditions of peace. The text has been completely drafted and the President of the Conference has stated in writing that the text that is about to be signed now, is identical with the two hundred copies that have been delivered to the German delegation. The signatures will be given now and they amount to a solemn undertaking faithfully and loyally to execute the conditions embodied by this treaty of peace. I now invite the delegates of the German commission to sign the treaty."

THIRTEENTH LAUNCHING AT SHATTUCK YARD

One of the Most Distinguished Gatherings in Yard's History

The launching of the 3500-ton "Ulka" at the L. H. Shattuck yard at 12:30 today was in many respects one of the most interesting since the yard opened. There was a notable gathering of women and with Mrs. Mary I. Wood the popular woman leader of the state as sponsor the day was really Ladies Day in fact. The occasion was graced by the members of the N. H. Weekly Publishers and their ladies, and the members of the N. H. Bar Association to the number of one hundred and twenty-five. The guests were looked after by Vice President Robert Jackson, Secretary E. W. Hartford and General Manager G. S. Howland.

The sponsor's platform presented a most attractive picture and the big hull slipped down the ways shortly after the time fixed amid the cheers of the crowd.

SEVENTY-FIVE KILLED FOR REVENGE

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 28.—The death of seventy-five defenseless passengers was one phase of the revenge taken by the rebel bands under the nominal command of Felix Diaz for the death of Aureliano Blum and Francisco Alvarez.

A train on the Interoceanic line, bearing passengers being armed only with instruments of labor, was dynamited by twelve Pinos and Las Vigas, the greater number of the passengers killed by the explosion and their bodies, together with the living wounded, burned when the train was fired.

Within a few days a party of bandits, commanded by the Arellano brothers, burned a large part of the village of Tlapacoyan, causing an undetermined number of casualties. Another attack by Pedro Gabay, falsely reported killed, on the Alvarado railway near Salinas, claimed fifteen passengers and fifteen soldiers as victims.

The only military success registered was the attack on a military train near Tlaxcala, where the Southern Railway, at a point known as "Devil's Backbone," by forces under the rebel leaders, Villegas and Figueroa. The young General Ernesto Dami, Major Cirilo Gamboa and fifty soldiers were killed, Dami fighting to the last.

KITTERY POINT

Kittery Point, June 28.—The celebration in Kittery Point on July 4, 1919, reminds those of middle life of the celebration of their childhood days. This celebration of 1919 will be remembered by the children it will not appear any grander than those of our childhood days. In those days every one came home to the "Fourth." They had a picnic at Deerings Oakes where every one went and met people they had not seen for years, at least. It was a home coming, years before old home week was thought of, a few days in the life of every one from Kittery Point. The revival of July 4th celebration is the old home coming in a new dress, to fit the times. Kittery, the oldest town in Maine, does well to lead in celebrating Independence Day. Her sons have served in all the wars of the colonies and on the side of old glory since it first floated.

DR. THOMAS MAKES SOME RECORD

Auto Trip From One End of Maine to the Other in Quick Time.

Dr. A. O. Thomas, state superintendent of schools of Maine, appears to have broken the record in flying trips from one end of the state to the other. It will be seen that he certainly did some automobile traveling. On Thursday night he spoke at Fort Kent in Aroostook County, and on Friday night was in Kittery where he was the speaker at the graduation exercises and the guest of Hon. Horace Mitchell. The graduates very much appreciated his efforts to get to Kittery and much more his very able and interesting discourse.

SEEKS TO BRING THAW TO TRIAL

New York, June 28.—Papers intended to bring about the extradition of Harry K. Thaw from Pennsylvania to have him tried here for the indictment charging him with assaulting Frederick Gump of Kansas City in New York several years ago were Friday ordered prepared immediately by District Attorney Swann. The prosecutor said he had been informed that Thaw for the second time had been allowed to leave a Philadelphia sanatorium where he has been confined, in order to visit his mother in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Swann said he had written a letter to the Governor of Pennsylvania informing him of the extradition plans. The papers will first require the signature of Governor Smith of New York.

Thaw is alleged by the New York prosecutor to have visited Pittsburgh for five days recently.

EXETER

Exeter, June 28.—A contested divorce case was heard in superior court Thursday afternoon before Judge W. H. Sawyer, that of Charles A. Small vs. Lela M. Small, both of Seabrook.

The May term of the superior court will come to an end on Monday of next week, when Judge W. H. Sawyer will call the docket in Portsmouth for the October term. The juryman were discharged with the closing of the Williams vs. Dutton case Thursday afternoon.

Now that the "Welcome Home" celebration has been held, the Fourth of July this year in Exeter will probably be a quiet one, as usual. The principal attraction for local people will be at Hampton Beach, where the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury street railway is planning on making the day attractive by a baseball game, and concerts and fireworks in the evening.

The summer school of the Phillips Exeter academy will open on July 7.

WANT RUSSIA LEFT ALONE

Southport, England, June 27.—British, French and Italian labor representatives have decided to make a general demonstration on July 28 or 29 to protest against Allied intervention in Russia. This announcement was made by Arthur Henderson, British labor leader, at the Labor Conference here today.

Mr. Henderson explained that the demonstration would be an attempt to prevent the governments of Europe from adopting a reactionary policy throughout that continent. It would be left to each country, he added, to decide whether the demonstration would take the form of political or industrial action. Resolutions would be passed protesting against any intervention in Russia and demanding the abandonment of conscription.

The conference later passed a resolution calling upon the Trade Union Congress to take industrial action in order to compel the British Government to stop operations in Russia. There was a heated discussion over the resolution, which was passed on a card vote by 1,893,000 to 935,000.

Secretary Langtry's Address.

The following is a summary of the address delivered by Secretary of State A. P. Langtry of Massachusetts at the Retail Druggists Association at Hotel Wentworth on Friday evening.

Albert P. Langtry, Secretary of State, spoke in part as follows:

"There is absolutely no room for the Bolsheviki in America. The history of this country proves that every boy has an equal chance to climb to the top of the ladder if he possesses the right qualifications. The best illustration of this that we have in the greatest man America has ever known, and in my humble judgment the greatest man in the world, Abraham Lincoln."

As you all know he was born in a log cabin into which God's sunlight could come only through the open door. His father was a miserable, good-for-nothing drunkard, but he had a beautiful mother, who unfortunately died when he was nine years of age. He went to school but three weeks in his entire career and then against the protest of his father, and yet he became the greatest literary genius that this country has produced. You know poor boys in your town but Abraham Lincoln as a boy in the Kentucky wilderness was ten times worse off than the poorest boy you know. He had to overcome more obstacles than anyone else. He overcame every one of them and became the President of the United States. He shows what a boy can do in politics. Now let us look at business."

Jay Gould was at one time the richest man in America and he started life as a pack peddler going from door to door selling needles and pins. Cornell University once the richest man in the world, started driving a horse and wagon. Henry Ford whose income is next to the largest of any man in this country a few years ago was a machinist getting three dollars a day. His fellow-workmen called him Ford he dreamed because he was dreaming of his invention. He was discharged and went home to his wife and said, "I have lost my position. We have but fifty dollars in the world and we shall need it for food, but I think with the fifty dollars I can complete this invention." His plucky wife went to work with her hands and earned the money to feed her husband, her son and herself. John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, began life as a clerk in a grocery store at three dollars per week.

A thousand times Lincoln said, "All that I am I owe to my mother." When she was dying she called her boy to her bedside and said in three words more than I can say in an hour and what she said is what every one of us should say to every man and boy who has a tendency to join the Bolsheviki. She said, "Abie, be somebody."

Bolshevism was founded in America in 1847 by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels. They laid down exactly the same laws that are laid down in Russia today. Lenin, the head of the Bolsheviki in Russia, is one of the best educated men in the world; an author of some of the finest books ever published. It is a curious coincidence that one of the slogans of the Bolsheviki is to kill all educated men, but the rule does not apply to Lenin. In their desire to get down even with the rich the Bolsheviki have destroyed all the coal mines and all the manufacturing plants, seemingly forgetting that thereby they were losing the opportunity to secure for themselves the products of these mines and factories.

The religion of Russia is known as the Greek Catholic Church. It is not similar to the Roman Catholic Church, but more like the Episcopal. The Bolsheviki have tortured and killed hundreds and hundreds of priests and have closed every church in the country. The clergymen of this Church are anything but high grade. The Baptists Mission in Russia have done a world of good, because besides teaching religion they have taught the peasants to read and write. The children marry at the age of fourteen or fifteen and the newly married couple goes to the one-room home of the peasant father, making anywhere from six to a dozen occupants of the home.

To many of us think that we have nothing to fear because the Bolsheviki is thousands of miles away. As a matter of fact it is right here in America. One of the greatest detectives in the United States said the other day that there are ten times as many in America as anyone has any idea of. Every Sunday afternoon there are tens of thousands of these people who meet in Boston. Three-fourths of the members of this organization can neither read nor write, and yet in 1912 there were 900,000 votes cast in America for the Socialist candidates for President. The organization is backed up by wealthy and learned people in the aristocratic back bay of Boston, by college professors and school teachers. The only remedy is education and it will take twenty years to bring about the remedy in that way. One of the orators at a meeting in Boston said, "July 4th next is to be our Independence Day, and on that day we will kill the President of the United States, the Governor to every state in the Union and every rich man in America."

I have a theory that most of the trouble in America is due to the fact that the rich mill owners wanted to increase their riches by importing cheap European labor. Porters were put up all over Europe that they could become rich if they came to America. One of the devices was to print the picture of a mill, and opposite the picture of a savings bank with the employees with bags of gold going from the mill to the savings bank, and when these poor people get to America the manufacturers gave them hardly pay enough to keep body and soul together.

America is the land of the free and the home of the brave. It has offered a shelter to the oppressed of all races. The cornerstone of liberty is credence to law. If we harbor within our bounds any human beings who plot murder and destruction, we should do to them as we would do to traitors in time of war.

The bell in Philadelphia proclaimed liberty to all in America. Heaven be merciful to the man who attempts to overthrow liberty and plant in its place anarchy and destruction."

(By Associated Press)
Mineola, L. I., June 27.—Counsel for Dr. Walter Wilkins, found guilty of murder in the first degree if the murder of his wife Julia last February said that they would take the case to the court of appeals and if necessary to the governor. The verdict with a recommendation from the jury of clemency, was returned after 23 hours deliberation.

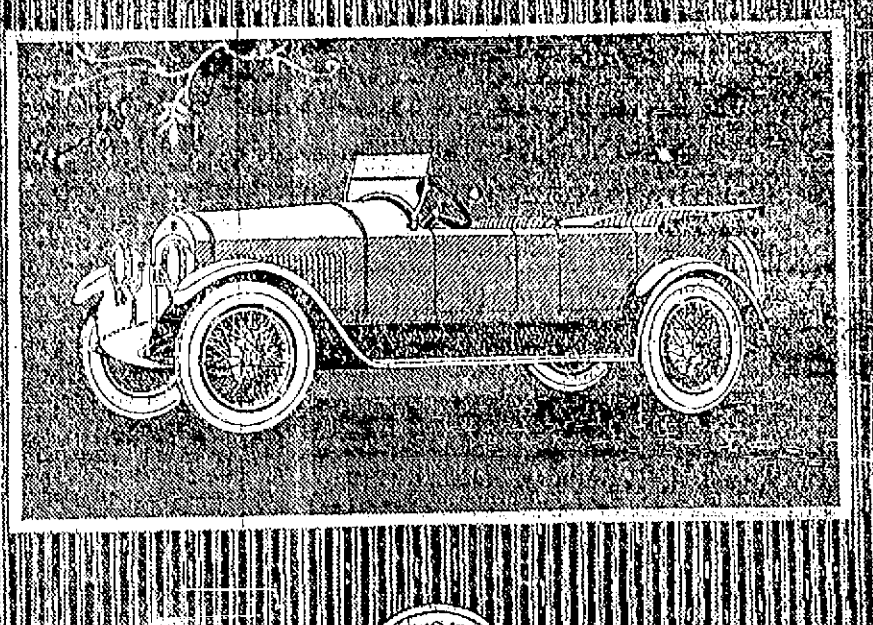

The court is unable to act on the recommendations as under the law the only sentence for murder is the electric chair. Dr. Wilkins will be sentenced on Tuesday.

According to the will of Adam Doeck, who died last year at Hollywood, Calif., his son, a St. Louis man will have to accumulate $30,000, exclusive of his home, in order to receive his share, about $10,000 of his father's estate.

The Tendency Should Be Checked.

This paper is on record as against paternalism, meaning by that the oversight by the government of any of the private affairs of the people, and centralization by means of turning municipal and county affairs over to the state, and from the states to the federal government.

The drift in that direction has been strong for years and is apparently gaining in momentum. More and more are the affairs of the people passing into hands "higher up," and unless the brakes are soon applied there is no telling what the end will be. We talk about government of the people, by the people and for the people. It may still be a government of the people and for the people, but to too great an extent it is ceasing to be a government by the people. It is the fault of the people that this is so, and unless they wake up and assert themselves in time the result will be that with all their boasted liberties they will be about as helpless as the peoples of Europe, most of whom are governed from the top.

As an illustration of the boldness with which paternalism is showing its hand at the present time comes the proposition that the government interest itself in the matter of providing homes for the people. Congressman Fitzgerald of Boston has introduced a bill calling for an appropriation of $50,000,000 for this purpose. The money would be disbursed by the Federal Farm Loan Board through the Land Banks, the maximum loan being $5,000 and the minimum $500.

This is a bold proposition. If the time is at hand when the government must take a hand in providing homes for the people, how long will it be before it is asked to see that those homes are properly furnished and their occupants adequately supported? All these things should be thought of before the government embarks in such an enterprise as providing houses for private families.

People who would be able to reimburse the government for these outlays do not need such assistance at its hands. They can take care of all the money they need if they have security. The banks everywhere stand ready to assist any reliable man in obtaining a home, and the government would be in poor business in helping to homes men who cannot obtain the required assistance in their own communities.

Beyond all this the principle is wrong. The American government was not instituted to build houses for the people and manage other of their private affairs. It has its duties to perform and there are enough of them to engage its attention without branching out into projects of this character.

Tax payers should give heed to such matters and make themselves heard before it is too late. They have to foot the bills, and they should demand that the appropriations be made at home and not at the state capitals or in Washington. There are legitimate expenses which the federal and state governments have to meet, but the cost of building houses for the people is not one of them, and any movement in that direction should be nipped in the bud.

Belgium appears to be regaining her feet rapidly. It is announced that all the tourists that see fit to visit the country will be properly cared for—provided they can pay the prices. As a further inducement it is given out that alcohol is so plentiful there that it is being dumped into the rivers. This should draw American trade after the first of July.

The government has decided to sell a great quantity of clothing, cloth and food products now in the hands of the Navy Department to navy yard civilian forces and to the families of enlisted men. This should come as good news to those who are to benefit, for the prices will probably be such as to furnish some relief from the cost of living.

Those from the surrounding region who attend the Fourth of July celebration here should not forget that the launching of a handsome steel ship at Atlantic Heights will be one of the striking features of the day's program. It will take place late in the afternoon and will be well worth waiting to see.

Justice Brandeis of the United States supreme court is to spend most of the summer in Palestine. He says the trip will be taken as a vacation and not as a matter of business, but many people will, under the circumstances, accept this statement with some allowance.

Highly creditable in every respect were the graduation exercises of the high school, and the graduates have the best wishes of all the people of Portsmouth for their success in life.

In a little different language Premier Clemenceau is telling the French people that this is "Der Tag" for which they "have been waiting for 49 years."

Boston has demonstrated that it has enough anti-prohibitionists to conduct a successful mass meeting.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Mr. Hays's Good Work

(From the Boston Herald)
 Mr. Wm. H. Hays, the accomplished chairman of the Republican national committee, is in Washington trying to evolve, in conference with the Republican senators, a reasonable policy toward the treaty. He inclines to the Root compromise. In fact, Mr. Root's efforts in the matter have been made at the behest of Mr. Hays. And the two men are alike in their purpose to handle the question in a just, sane and patriotic manner, without regard to political considerations.

We feel that the task, if left to Mr. Hays, is in good hands. He is a sound and sagacious man. He does not belong to the extremists on either side. His position on the league has been essentially that some form of world organization was the highly desirable and necessary outcome of this war, and that we ought to exhibit as hopeful an attitude toward the President's endeavors as we could, consistent with the basic responsibilities of the nation.

The New Pacific Fleet

(From the Boston Herald)
 The announced sailing of the Pacific fleet about the middle of July opens a new chapter of American sea power. This latest creation of the navy department fleet will give a balance to our naval defense that only the completion of the Panama canal, and the termination of the great war have made possible. Powerful as the Atlantic fleet, both in speed and in gun power, the ships under Admiral Mahan, headed by the superdreadnought New Mexico, will complete that mobile wall which can serve both as our watch-dog against aggression, and as our pointer to new fields for the American merchant marine.

Nor must we always think of the maintenance of an efficient navy as an international challenge. The seas are infinitely more difficult to police than the land. The introduction of the submarine into the literature of organized piracy opens a new need for naval vigilance. Several months before the outbreak of the war, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle wrote for an English periodical a story entitled "Danger!" In it he outlined the menace of the submarine, and particularly the power which it gave to relatively small nations. It will be long before the "organized major forces of mankind," represented in the league of nations, can cope fully with this new possibility of piracy. The Atlantic and Pacific fleets are our splendid offering to the safety of the world's ocean roads. They will write the majesty of law and order on the waves.

A Needed Warning to Mexico

(From the Public Ledger)
 It must be obvious that with Congress in control of the legislative end of the government the executive policy toward Mexico must mind its steps. And while many people have honestly differed as to certain phases of the "watchful-waiting" policy, the average American in the last six years has been outraged again and again at the seeming indifference of the Washington government to what really was going on in America. Hence the country at large will cordially support the administration in its reported new attitude toward the Carranza government by which what are called strong representations have been made to Mexican officials in the matter of the protection of Americans in the so-called disturbed areas.

A great deal of water has run under the bridge since the days when the Mexican government under Carranza came to the conclusion that it could safely disregard anything that Washington might say in view of the presumed pacific attitude of the Administration, and later, our support of Carranza as one of the governments at war with Germany. But the downfall of Germany and the dazzling vision of 3,000,000 Americans in the other side, now mostly returned, have not failed to affect the imagination of even the most blinded partisan of the Carranza conspirators. So one is not surprised, therefore, to hear that General Aguilar, the son-in-law of Carranza, and now in Washington as a "special ambassador" to the United States, considers "the crossing of the American troops into Mexico at Juarez a closed incident." But it is not so much Aguilar's attitude as that certain leaders in the House do not regard the Administration's wavering policies in Mexico as a closed incident that, in all probability, is one of the determining reasons why the State Department has stiffened the backbone of its official attitude for the safety of Americans and, in general, the safeguarding of American interests south of the Rio Grande.

In view of this new attitude, we shall probably hear nothing more about Great Britain being given a mandatory to look after the Mexican situation. And if the Administration has finally come to its senses in this grave issue, the country will welcome its eleventh-hour conversion to an American policy in Mexico whether Carranza likes the Monroe Doctrine or not.

Are These Teachers to Teach

(From the Boston Herald)
 Yesterday the State Normal Schools at Bridgewater, Salem and North Adams gave diplomas to their graduating classes. These young men and women equipped to teach the children of Massachusetts. How many of them are going to pursue the occupation for which they have prepared?

Many of the graduates of our normal schools are not teachers now. Finding the inducements offered by the schools insufficient they have entered commercial life instead. As the cost of living has advanced the proportion of normal school graduates striking out into other lines has increased.

These young men and women are not mercenary. Before they began to train for their profession they knew that being schoolmasters or schoolmistresses was not the road to affluence. The appeal of teaching had come to them on other grounds than how much drawn by love of books, liking for money they could get. They were children, the desire to impart knowledge, the prospect of having a job which would be a public benefit. All they expected was a living. But now each of them must answer the question, "Can I afford to teach?"

The children need them. There is no shadow of doubt about that. But if teachers must continue to count every cent and then go without, the children will no longer have many of these new graduates for very long. Either the schools will be undermined or the quality of those who preside over classes will fall below standard.

Those who have completed the normal training have done their part. And now the responsibility passes to the School Boards and Committees. They must find a way to raise their bids for teachers. Our whole system of public education is hanging in the balance.

The Gift Burden

(From the Berkshire Eagle)
 At this season of the year we are told of the various gifts to educational institutions. Harvard announces a total of $1,200,000 and no doubt others have done as well or better. While it is always gratifying to read of such gifts we cannot avoid wondering how much easier they will make it for the average young man to go through college? In too many instances such donations are used in creating a larger establishment which adds to the expense of the institution; indeed, some colleges have to carry so many gift buildings and the like that they are poor in reality. These gifts should be used so far as possible in making the cost of a college education less.

A Case Of Desertion

(From the Los Angeles Times)
 Some day a strike which impairs the public service and interrupts the normal business of the people will be looked upon with about as much favor as desertion in the Army.

MRS. SKEELS AGAIN FACES THE JURY

(By Associated Press)

Lawrence, Mass., June 28.—Apparently recovered from the fainting attack, which caused her collapse yesterday, Mrs. Jessie M. (Skeels) Landgren today returned to the court where her trial for the murder of Miss Florence W. Gay, was resumed. The defendant said she was feeling much better today, but counsel decided not to have her take the witness stand again immediately and Dr. A. C. Foreman, of Raynham, N. J., was called. The testimony of Dr. Foreman concerned the illness and death of Albert J. Wilkins of Raynham, a brother of Mrs. Landgren, for whose murder by poisoning, she is also under indictment in New Jersey. Under cross examination, Dr. Foreman testified that he had never prescribed lead in any form for Wilkins nor had he prescribed Fowler's solution for Mrs. Landgren.

The court announced that today's session probably would be continued through the afternoon to make up for the time lost by yesterday's postponement on account of the defendant's condition.

DISTRICT R. R. DIRECTOR RESIGNS

James H. Hustis has resigned as District Director, New England District, United States Railroad Administration, effective July first next, and will be succeeded by Percy R. Todd, who has been acting as Assistant to the District Director.

The New England District consists of all New England railroads under Federal control, including such parts of those roads as extend into New York State and into Canada, and Mr. Hustis was appointed to the position when it was created on June 10th of last year.

When asked as to the significance of the resignation, Mr. Hustis stated that the probable return of the railroads to private operation on December 31st next placed on him a special obligation in connection with the Boston and Maine, of which he has continued to be the Receiver. There are many details to be arranged for in connection with the return of the railroads to their owners, as well as in preparing for their organization after their return, and Mr. Hustis will give his entire time to this work as applied to the Boston and Maine.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Replies to Box 58.

Editor:—A recent communication in the form of a wall from Box 58 is very near being amusing.

Box 58 wants the new fire station made exclusive for the fire department and apparently gets much excited because it was suggested that a new police station be located in the same building. He objects on the ground that the firemen should not be disturbed in their sleep by drunks, etc., claiming that there will be noise enough from horses stamping without adding vocal strains and declamations of the intoxicated inmates of a police station.

If Box 58 would give this matter a little sincere consideration he would satisfy himself that his argument is flat.

A real fireman and one who loves the work is never known to complain about noises at night for he generally sleeps with one eye open for alarms.

Why is Box 58 losing sleep over this proposed police station when he must know that by the time that the fire department responds to alarms from the new fire station, every piece of fire apparatus will be motorized and the nearest horse to disturb the firemen will be in the city stables nearly 100 yards away.

He should scratch his head again and think. Can it be that he has no knowledge of the country going dry in January 1920, and that drunks will be strangers to the cells in the police station? It is not what the firemen and police want in this matter, but what the city can save in combining headquarters of the two departments. This is a business proposition for the city and it should be fulfilled without the detraction of firemen who have practically run the department for the past 30 years.

ANOTHER BOX 58.

Open Cut-Outs Again

Editor:—I have been reading with much interest the several opinions, etc. relative to the disturbance of the sick at the Portsmouth Hospital by the operation of automobiles on Junkins avenue and I am led to believe that the most relief will come when the operation of open cut-outs on the New Castle bridge is stopped. Why not confer with the owners and drivers of these motor vehicles?

LESS NOISE.

Maine has certainly done her part and has been in the lead.

N. H. WEEKLY PUBLISHERS HERE ON OUTING

The New Hampshire Weekly Publishers Association is holding its mid-summer outing at the Hotel Wentworth, New Castle, the party arriving Friday afternoon. The hotel and its splendid surroundings is an ideal place for the outing and the members are enjoying every moment of their stay at this famous resort.

This forenoon the party left the hotel in automobiles for this city, accompanied by Major P. W. Hartford, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, and proceeded to the day sight seeing. They first proceeded to the shipbuilding plant of the Atlantic Corporation where the members were most cordially greeted by General Manager H. C. Haynes who directed Mr. Riquist to show them about. They were astounded with the magnitude of the big steel plant and its equipment and were most interested in all that was shown them.

After inspecting the Atlantic shipyard the party left for the Shattuck shipyard at Newington where they saw wooden ships being built and had the opportunity to witness an interesting launching, the big wooden ship "Ulaka" slid down the ways at noon, Mrs. Mary L. Wood being sponsor at the launching.

Out of courtesy to the publishers the Shipping Board ordered this ship to take the water at noon today, although the launching was scheduled for Monday.

The party returned to the hotel for lunch and at 1.15 p. m. visited the navy yard and was met by Lieutenant Commander Thomas Mott Osborne U. S. N., superintendent of the Naval Prison, and all had the opportunity of inspecting the great building. It was a pleasure to meet the famous exponent of prison reform methods and to hear his short talk concerning his methods of managing the great penal institution.

The visitors were shown the various objects of interest at the navy yard from a big battleship to a small submarine. The weather was ideal for a sight seeing trip and every moment was filled with interest. The return to the Wentworth Hotel will be made late this afternoon.

No special program has been arranged for Sunday but with the many places of interest in the vicinity of the hotel there will be no end of choice for diversion.

Following the shoot a clam bake was served on the grounds and it was excellent.

At the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Association, the Portsmouth Country Club was voted in as a member of the Association and the same officers elected. Walter B. Farmer of Hampton Falls is president. Today's program included six 25 target events and 150 targets for the day's total.

PROHIBITION NOW IN ONE BILL

Washington, June 27.—The House Judiciary Committee today voted 17 to 2 to report out all prohibition enforcement legislation in one general bill, with the war-time enforcement measure set down as part one. An finally amended it will be sent to the House tomorrow and chairman Volstead will ask for a rule for its immediate consideration. Members said, however, it was not likely that action would be taken until after July 4.

The three sections of the enforcement bill are:

War-time enforcement, effective upon its approval.

Constitutional prohibition.

Enforcement and regulation of the manufacture of industrial alcohol.

Parts two and three will become effective Jan. 15, when the country will go dry by constitutional amendment.

Although enforcement of this legislation cannot be passed and approved by the President before war-time prohibition becomes effective, the Department of Justice will undertake to enforce the prohibition law, but no wholesale indictment were to be expected until test cases now in the courts have been decided. When a decision is had the case probably will be appealed to the Supreme Court, and as the court does not meet until October national prohibition by Congress.

The smallest republic in the world, to far as an area is concerned, is St. John, situated in an almost inaccessible part of the Basse-terre-Pyrenees. St. John is hardly a square mile in area, with a population of practically 130 persons, who rule themselves. The smallest self-governed state in the world in regard to population is Tavoria, an island but little known, on the north coast of Savania. It is about two miles long, with an average width of half a mile, yet it is a free and independent republic of about 70 inhabitants, who are their own rulers.

MAY MAKE SHAUGHNESSY GOV. OF IRELAND

London, June 27.—The elevation of Lord Shaughnessy, head of the Canadian Pacific, born in Milwaukee, and one of the ablest men in the British empire, to be the first Governor-General of the "Dominion of Ireland," is expected to be the early solution of the political status of the disturbed island.

The elevation of Lord Northcliffe to the "Dominion of Ireland" recently in the "Times" has given the world the first inkling of the great battle behind the screen. For weeks Northcliffe has been conducting a symposium on the Irish question, publishing the views of Irish men and women thinkers in every station. He is more than half-Irish himself, his mother coming from an old Wicklow family of genuine Irish.

Forcing Lloyd George's Hand.
Northcliffe has been forcing Lloyd George's hand in the Irish question. His suggestion of the Dominion of Ireland, placing that country on the precise plane as the ex-territorial members of the empire, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland, is being endorsed by powerful influences who in the past have opposed home rule. Devolution is planned for Wales and Scotland, but where those countries are interwoven with England, no political separation is even dreamed of, seriously.

Suspect Col. House.
Ireland, however, is beyond the waters, and in London and Paris, the report Shaughnessy is to head the new dominion is taken very seriously. The report came originally from American close to the peace delegates heads, and it would not surprise those who believe the story to learn that it came from Col. House.

Lord Shaughnessy is one of the best known men in the world. His great services during the war, as head of the supplies, and his giving his son to the cause, has made him an object of veneration among a large body of the Irish.

He comes of Tipperary stock and is a staunch Roman Catholic.

KANSAS WHEAT CROP

229,217,000 BUSHELS

New High Record For Winter Grain and 33,000,000 Bushels Greater than Last Federal Estimates

Topeka, Kas., June 27.—The Kansas winter wheat crop, now being harvested, was estimated at 229,217,000 bushels in the monthly report issued today by J. C. Mohler, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.
"This is an increase of more than 11,000,000 bushels over Mohler's May report and it is approximately 33,000,000 bushels greater than the last Federal monthly report."

Wanted—A Convivial Drink
(From the New York World)
The demonstration made by a prominent restaurant-keeper of the possibilities of invention in devising substitute beverages for alcoholic beverages seems to have been a great success except on one point. The imitation cocktails, highballs, liqueurs, etc., deceived the eye and the palate of the imbibor but they failed to fool the subconscious sense which registers degrees of alcoholic exhilaration. They were good to look at and to taste but they did not cheer the inner man.

Will it be possible, indeed, with all the compounding's art, to overcome that inherent defect of nonintoxicating drinks? They may be "just as good" in all other respects, and better as regards the absence of reaction following stimulation. But the problem will remain of supplying an acceptable substitute for the alcoholic content.

National prohibition, of course, will offer a spur to invention of this kind such as it has never had under the free consumption of liquor. There will be wealth beyond the dreams of avarice for the man who can concoct a soft drink which will conduce to conviviality without drunkenness. There are coffee and tea, of course, among non-alcoholic stimulants make these also wicked outlaws.

But a world which after centuries of demand for palatable temperance beverages rests content with ginger ale, soda pop and similar carbonated drinks offers little promise of a beverage which will cheer and at the same time gently inebriate without violating the prohibition laws.

One of Raphael's famous paintings, "The Belle Jardiniere" was sold a few years ago in a Paris second-hand shop for $10 to a lucky purchaser who was offered $20,000 for it in a few days.

Two for Auto Law Violation.

James E. White of Portsmouth, N. H., was arrested here last night by Officer John Foley charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The police had received complaints about an intoxicated man driving a machine in a reckless manner.
In police court this morning, White was fined $100. The fine was later modified to $50. The defendant did not have that much money with him and at his request City Marshal McLean telephoned to friends at Portsmouth and they said they would see what could be done to assist him. White expects to obtain the money and his release from custody this afternoon.—Newburyport News.

THE ISLES OF SHOALS.

The burning of the Applecore, followed by the war, closed the chapter at the Isles of Shoals as a summer resort. The guests who made the Shoals a national resort have gone the way of the world. The history of the Shoals as a summer resort has never been written; when it is three men will stand out as the promoters of that great business. A new chapter is now about to be opened. We wish the Shoals as much fame in the future as a resort as it enjoyed in the past.

HOME WEDDING

Miss Ruth G. Goodrich Bride of Harold R. Blake.

A pretty June wedding occurred at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abdon M. Goodrich, when their daughter, Miss Ruth (Gladys) Goodrich, was united in marriage to Harold Russell Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Blake of Hampton.

The lower rooms of the home were prettily decorated with roses, carnations and garden flowers for the occasion and an arch of greenery with white flowers intermingled beautified the parlor and formed a pretty setting for the wedding party.

To the music of the "Wedding Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" the wedding party entered the room where the ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Percy Warren Caswell, pastor of the Court Street Christian church.

The bride wore a dainty gown of white satin and silk lace and a veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Clifton H. Pike, elder sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and was attired in a gown of white crepe de chine and carried pink sweet peas. Melvin Osborne acted as best man.

The nuptials were witnessed by 40 or more relatives and friends of the contracting parties and at the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom held an informal reception.

A dainty wedding repast was served and the bride cut the wedding loaf and distributed it to her guests. Each also received a dainty box of wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake left later for a wedding trip to Boston and vicinity. Her going away gown was of Jersey cloth, worn with white Georgette waist and hat of white straw.

Both bride and groom were employees of the local telephone exchange. The bride has held a position there for three years and the groom having been a cable man in the employ of the company. He resigned his position to enter the service, enlisting on Dec. 19, 1917. He is on duty on the U. S. S. New Mexico, having the rating of coxswain in the navy.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school, class of '16. She will make her home in this city while her husband has sea duty. Both are well known and have the best wishes of hosts of friends for a happy future.

The wedding gifts were numerous and attested to the love and esteem of relatives and friends.

Wirthmor and Welworth Waists

—After a very careful investigation we have arranged to distribute these two nationally-known and nationally favored lines of Waists in this city. Before deciding on this step we learned the Wirthmor and Welworth Waists were being handled by many of the best stores in America; that they had attained through their unvarying excellence a nation-wide popularity; that because of the unique Wirthmor Plan under which they are made and sold that they always represented the highest possible standard of value in popular price blouses, and further because of this very unusual method of making and selling Waists we would be able to show the new and wanted styles first, in many instances long in advance of their appearance in the market generally.

These are America's only known priced Waists, and they are sold at the same low prices the nation over.

GOING TO SELL THE DUBUQUE AT LOCAL YARD

One of the First Ships to Be Disposed of by Sale for Several Years.

The Portsmouth navy yard will get no work on the gunboat Dubuque from the fact that this ship will be sold.

Orders were received this morning at the local navy yard from the department directing that no work what ever be undertaken on the ship as she would later be sold probably by sealed bids.

The Dubuque is a sister ship of the Paducah and has made Portsmouth yard her home port for many years.

She was built in 1901 by the Gas Engine and Power Co., and the C. I. Seabury Company at Morris Heights, N. Y. For several years previous to the war the ship was assigned to the surveying expedition off the Cuban coast during the winter, coming here for general overhauling in the summer. It is likely that other small ships out of commission here will go the same way.
